Fort Jefferson is a compact and multi-faceted wooden play structure for the 2 to 5 age range that brings families together for bonding and fun. Barbara has since created variations on the Fort Jefferson design for many of Thomas Safran and Associates' communities.

Despite its small footprint, the Jefferson features a wide range of things to do for active youngsters, including a rock climbing wall, slide, tunnel, rope net climb, fire fighter pole, and ship's wheel.

This structure meets ASTM F1487 Standards for Public Use Playground Equipment and the 2010 Americans with Disabilities Act.
